

Owner's name: _____

Rabbit's name: _____

Today's date: _____

My rabbit is showing the following symptoms: (cross out if not showing this symptom)

- Can't keep his/her balance – falling over on side, or wobbly on feet
- Leaning to one side – head tilted at an angle
- Curled/twisted body, with one eye predominantly facing upwards and the other on the ground
- Rolling/spinning over on side, or chasing their tail round in a circle
- Sitting in a dark corner, sitting very still – not interacting as usual
- Not eating normally or stopped eating completely

I have seen the following symptoms in my rabbit recently, or in the past: (provide approximate timeframe for each symptom)

Bacterial infection / 'snuffles' symptoms, indicating inner ear infection (otitis media), a common cause of headtilt:

- Sneezing _____
- Nasal discharge _____
- Weepy eye(s) _____
- Respiratory noises (grunting/stuffy nasal noises and/or rattly chest noises when breathing)

- Build-up of discharge in the ear _____
- Continuous horizontal eye movement

EC (Encephalitozoon Cuniculi / E. Cuniculi) symptoms, a common cause of headtilt:

- Hind leg weakness / tripping or dragging back leg(s)

- Incontinence _____

- Continuous vertical eye movement _____

Other symptoms/possible causes:

Drooling _____

Tooth problems _____

Loss of eye movement _____

Changes in eating habits – loss of appetite for specific foods or generally _____

My rabbit has had a fall or trauma to the head (or an extreme reaction to a situation)

My rabbit has been under a lot of emotional stress recently (e.g. phantom pregnancies, loss of a mate, limited 'play time' due to bad weather, etc.)

My rabbit has been under a lot of physical stress recently (e.g. a recent operation, illness or injury)

My rabbit ate something that could have been poisonous
